DEMONSTRATOR

ANGELA HERNANDEZ HIGHLIGHTS

I find my ideas are best expressed in the medium of transparent watercolor. From early successes with oil, I was inspired to shift to watercolor because of its ability to capture myriad creative impulses arising from my experiences gained through world travel.

“From my career beginnings to a successful fashion illustrator for such clients as May Company, Robinson’s, Bullock’s, and others, my interests migrated toward fine art and to watercolor, in particular, because of its versatility and its quality transparency. These characteristics have become increasingly important to me as the sources for my ideas have expanded from my professional art career to include my experiences with both local and foreign travels.

“My primary subject I paint is usually the figure or figures in an environmental or symbolic background, but recently. I have also explored the landscape in design.” - Angela Hernandez

Angela attended several prestigious schools, including Art Center College of Design, Chouinard, and Scripps. She has attended watercolor workshops with Robert E. Wood, Christopher Schink, Milford Zornes, and others. She is the recipient of many awards at local and international exhibitions. She has taught fashion illustration at Otis College of Art and Design, and has taught many classes and workshops. Angela is a signature member of Watercolor West and SDWS, and an Active member of Women Painters of the West.

MICHI IKEDA

I was born in Japan and came to the United States when I was 14. I've always loved drawing and painting. My main interest is in painting with watercolor. I also like to use rice paper with watercolor to create collage. I will paint flowers, seascape, landscape and abstract using watercolor. I have won numerous awards and have sold some paintings.

In 2007 I was finally accepted into Watercolor West Show and for the first time was given the Watercolor Magic Magazine Award. To improve my painting skills I've taken workshops from Henry Fukuhara, Milford Zornes, Eric Weingard, Joan KcKasson, Feeling Lin, Ruby Wang and most recently from Dale Laitenen. I have taken classes from Tom Fong and Chris Van Winkle for many years. Painting with fellow artists and friends in classrooms and outdoors has given me a great joy. It is something I would like to pursue for rest of my life. I would like to keep on pressing on to improve my painting skills and experiment with new possibilities in painting with watercolors.

CONDOLENCES

Sincere condolences got out to both Ruth Manis and Eileen Mahar, who lost their brother/son, David Mahar, recently. Mr. Mahar was a long time member of the Association, and he will be greatly missed.
