

DEMONSTRATOR

ROSALYN BRUYERE HIGHLIGHTS

Rosalyn Bruyere is an internationally acclaimed healer and medicine woman. Her frequent collaborations with physicians and scientists reflect her belief that healing and health should be a cooperative effort between patient, physician and healer. Her combined scientific and spiritual focus influences both her teaching and writing style and serves to bridge the gap between concept and reality.

Dual involvement in healing and art has provided inspiration in Rosalyn's creative activities, allowing her to bring her many talents, insights, and imagination into her painting. Her watercolor paintings allow her varied background and intellectual talents to find new expression into which she brings passion, perception, and excitement.

Linda Scott

As a child, I was inspired by my great-grandmother. She was an artist and her paintings were displayed in her home. My first paintings were done with left over paint-by-number paint. About ten years ago, Andres Zapata introduced me to contemporary realism. He taught in the style of the old masters. At first I strove to be an impressionist, but it turns out I am a realist. Who Knew. Since meeting Andrew, I have studied in France with Tim Stotz and Michelle Tully.

My focus has been on still-life, figure, and portraiture, but I'm hoping to get back to plein-air and landscapes in the next few years.

Membership Renewals are due April 1

Frames and Brush Notice

The "brush lady" will be at the April meeting.

The Purvis art gallery in Upland at 267 N. 2nd Ave. will be offering frames for 50 cents to $10.00 On April 17th in the building behind the gallery from 10am till 6pm. Stretcher bars are also available.

Congratulations and Thanks

Ginger Marshall and Christie Bruce have both sold paintings at the Gibson Center. Nancy Brinkley won First Place in the monthly show at the PVAA Soho gallery.

Many thanks to Susan Chavira for the beautiful slideshow of the Fall Exhibit. Members can get copies for a donation of $5.00

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

lloello Fellow Artists,

Welcome to spring! Along with this time of year come many opportunities for plein-air painting. The air is warm, there is little wind or rain, and all of those colors that artists love are outside just waiting to be interpreted in a painting. See this newsletter for plein-air information. Our small plein-air group is starting to grow. Join us and see how rewarding it can be to paint from life, outside.

As your new president, I am honored to have taken the helm from our former President Karen Warner. Karen did a fabulous job of leading our Association that it should make my job a breeze. I look forward to any suggestions you may have for continuing to improve our Association. Don't hesitate to place your ideas in the Suggestion Box: at the general meeting. The Board reviews

these at each Board meeting.

We are already working on some events for this year, including new avenues in which to show our work, and our 20th Annual Fall

Show, to be held September 10-12. Contact me at 909-

628-1457 or at marthacowan@carthlink.net. I look forward to hearing from you.

Go outside. Create. Be rewarded..

Martha
